Beyond the decorative, the motive reaches to the very roots of behaviour.

On the occasion of the 20th Bishop's University Fine Arts Graduating Students Exhibition, graduates present a series of disparate works that reflect their respective journey through their undergraduate program.

Individual singularities come into action, mingling to collectively form a motif/motive in the gallery space. In their own way, the five participants explore the question of motif as creative energy and as a decorative form. The exhibition connects, confronts and puts into dialogue creative perspectives, giving form to a motif at once individual and collective.
